Red Cross Providing Hospitals

With Red Cell Products

Officials of Red Cross Blood Service announced recently that they are now providing hospitals with a superior red cell product. Nutricel, an additive blood bag system. Shipment to local hospitals started Monday (March 11) and the new product will improve the expedience and economy of transfusions.

The introduction of this space-age blood bag, manufactured by Cutter Laboratories, has two great benefits. The system will extend the shelf life of red blood cells from 35 days to 42 days and increase red cell viability, especially during the last two weeks of storage. This means that even at 42 days, the blood's ability to carry oxygen has not decreased and is still of better quality than previous methods. The bag will be distributed to all 47 hospitals served by Red Cross along the coast of Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

The extension from the previous 35-day limit is good news for all hospital blood banks, and especially for us at the Gulf Coast Region," said Karen Gaddis, Administrator of Red Cross Blood Services headquartered in Mobile.

"In addition to being able to produce more derivatives for hemophiliacs and components for leukemia patients, hospitals using the new bags may choose to reduce transfusion related costs by eliminating more expensive transfusion sets and transfusion solutions," Ms. Gaddis added. The saline in the additive solution dilutes red cells to a transfusion-ready concentration, eliminating the need for a saline dilution step.

Every effort will be made to test existing inventories of blood and components. In addition to implementing the testing, the recently revised and strengthened FDA blood donor screening guidelines are being used to better and more clearly identify and exclude donors from high-risk categories.

Federal guidelines require a phase-in test period during which units found to have a positive antibody must be discarded. The donors of those units will not be notified until proficiency tests are developed and alternative test sites are established to confirm test results. "The establishment of alternative test facilities is vital to maintain the safety of the community's blood supply and to provide evaluation for those individuals who may not qualify as blood donors," said Dr. Daniele.

Red Cross began collecting blood in Mobile in 1947, maintaining that voluntarily donated blood is essential to the safety of the community. This partnership with the donor assures that blood will be available immediately to all who need it.

New Brockton Students Learn

Learn Calligraphy

A history lesson in handwriting was the week-long class taught to New Brockton Elementary students by Carol McCrady, an Alabama resident artist. Some 160 students in the school were taught the fine art of calligraphy - meaning beautiful handwriting - which is the writing that adorned religious texts and manuscripts of the Middle Ages.

The visiting artist says the unconventional curriculum helps boost student creativity, develops eye-hand coordination, and gives young people a money-making talent. "It is a useful thing, whether they make a living at it or just use it for fun," McCrady said.

She contends that the ancient form of handwriting, which has been exhumed in recent years by artists and crafts enthusiasts, can be mastered by anyone. "Half the secret is learning how to hold the pen," McCrady said. "Then you learn the basic strokes, do now after row, and that's all it takes," she added.

The style she teaches to the students is a basic italic style that is easy for beginners to learn. The resident artist teaches the strokes and the letters that might be described as fancy block letter, but the students do have to learn how to print what is essentially a different alphabet. The pen used is a wide, flat-tip pen that is held at a 45-degree angle to give thick and thin strokes to the letters.

McCrady has taught several different age groups and finds that younger children seem to learn the style faster than adults. "I have taught in the state junior college system and I have taught about 4,000 adults, calligraphy. I am teaching elementary, middle school and high school now and I find the fourth, fifth and sixth graders do very well. I think that is because they have just recently learned cursive and their way of writing are not really set," she said.

Ms. McCrady said there are a lot of practical applications for calligraphy in the schools. There are many times when a student has a project to label something on poster board. Putting it in calligraphy could help them make a better grade, because it would look neat and attractive."

The resident artist program for the school was sponsored by the Coffee County Arts Alliance and the Coffee County Board of Education.

Eufaula Pilgrimage

"Steps Back

In Time"

Eufaula's 20th Annual Pilgrimage April 12-14 will be a community effort, involving hundreds of people. Residents of the east Alabama city invite the public to "step back in time" to tour the restored, older homes and structures of a supposedly less hurried era.

Daytime and evening tours will be led by costumed hostesses who share stories of the past. Other events will highlight the weekend, such as an antique show and sale, 45-degree angle to give thick and thin strokes to the letters.

Bands and choirs from the area, including a church handbell choir, will entertain at various times and locations. Wine and cheese parties at the Shorter Mansion will be a prelude to candlelight tours of homes and churches on Friday and Saturday nights.

To make reservations for the Shorter Mansion wine and cheese parties, secure a guide for tour buses or obtain information and tickets contact the Eufaula Heritage Association, sponsor of the event. The association may be reached at P.O. Box 486, Eufaula, AL 36027, 205/687-3793.

Testing Programs At Elba City Schools
Will Aid In Educational Career Of Student

The 1985-86 school year will be a busy year for students in the Elba City School System as school officials plan to conduct six testing programs that will involve all students in grades 1-12.

"The testing appears to be extensive," stated Elba Junior High counselor John Windham. "However, it is nothing new. The tests are new in that they have been updated, but the actual number of tests is identical to last year."

Tests scheduled to be given include:

Alabama Basic Competency Test (BCT) - Grades 3-9 - A measure of the acquisition of basic skills (reading, language, math) entitled by Alabama as minimum for particular grade levels.

Alabama High School Graduation Examination - Grades 11 and 12: The culmination of the Basic Competency Education Program which is designed to assure that students who receive an Alabama high school diploma have acquired minimum knowledge in the basic skills areas of reading, language and mathematics.

Stanford Achievement Test - Grades 1, 4, 5, 7, 8 and 10 - A tool for gathering information about a student's achievement in the area of reading, language, math, listening, science and social studies. It is designed to reflect what is being taught in schools throughout the United States. It allows comparison of students with their peers on a school, system, state and national basis.

Otis-Lennon School Ability Test (OLSAT) - Grades 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 8 and 10 - A measure of students' ability to perceive accurately, recognize and recall what has been perceived, to think logically, perceive relationships, abstract and general. Results from these measures are reported as one score on the School Ability Index, which indicates the student's ability to handle school-related material.

Administration of the OLSAT makes it possible to compare a student's performance on the Stanford with the performance of other students with the same ability.

Ohio Vocational Interest Survey (OVIS) - Grade 9 - Fall - An interest inventory which yields a listing of 23 occupational clusters in rank order according to the student's vocational interest scores. Results from the OVIS II will help teachers and counselors focus career education activities and individualize career exploration. OVIS II test results will be used to help high school students take their first steps in formulating career goals and designing programs of study related to those goals.

Differential Aptitude Test (DAT) - Grade 9 - Winter - A measure of eight fundamental intellectual abilities (verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy, mechanical reasoning, space relations, spelling, language usage) which predicts how well students will perform in the studies and jobs they pursue later. DAT scores will help students decide whether or not their vocational interests (OVIS II) are compatible with their abilities. Students and counselors can then make more realistic decisions about course selection and post high school options for continued study and/or employment.

"The BCT is a means of checking a student's progress in basic skills," explained Windham. "If a student doesn't score well, the basic competencies will be reintroduced in the next grade. The high school graduation exam tests minimum skills students should have learned in grades 1-10, and this test has not caused the problems people feared."

"The Stanford Achievement Test and Otis-Lennon School Ability Test go hand in hand," said Windham. "The Otis-Lennon Test finds the ability of the student and the Stanford test is a test of achievement."

Parents are encouraged to become active in their child's educational growth and are invited to visit counselors to view their test results.

WHEREAS, there is a growing optimism in the medical and scientific communities with the progress being made in controlling cancer so that today nearly half of all those developing cancer are now surviving

WHEREAS, the education and fund-raising crusade of the American Cancer Society volunteers in the communities of our state is the source of the urgently needed funds to support these programs.

EXPLAINS TESTING PROGRAM - Elba Junior High School guidance counselor John Windham explains the new testing programs to be implemented during the 1985-86 school year. All students in grades 1-12 will be included in the testing program.

State Attorney General Clarifies Authority Of Kinston Police

The State of Alabama attorney general's office this week answered a number of legal questions submitted by Kinston Mayor W.H. Mullins concerning the authority and training requirements of policemen.

Mayor Mullins requested an opinion on the following questions:

"1. If the town of Kinston hires a man for the work of a police officer, before we send him to the police academy, does he have full arresting powers as a police officer out on the streets? Does another officer have to be with him?

"2. Does a police officer that has been through the academy but out of police work for six months or more, have to take any refresher course when he goes back into service?

"3. Does an auxiliary police officer have the authority to carry a gun?"

In issuing an opinion on the questions, the attorney general stated:

"Regarding your first question,

Code of Alabama 1975, Section 36-21-46 sets out the minimum standards for applicants and appointees for employment as law enforcement officers in this state. Section 36-21-46(a)(3) states:

Police Training - Prior to appointment, the applicant shall have completed at least 240 hours of formal police training in a recognized police training school, which shall include the Federal Bureau of Investigation Police Training Academy or another training school approved by the commission; provided that an applicant may be provisionally appointed without having completed the police training prescribed in this subdivision, subject to the condition that he shall complete such training within nine months after provisional appointment; and should he fail to complete such training, his appointment shall be null and void."

(Emphasis added)

"Thus, the town of Kinston may hire, as a police officer, an individual who has not completed the required training for law enforcement officers, provided that individual completes such training within nine (9) months of his appointment as a law enforcement officer. In an opinion of the attorney general to the Honorable Michael B. Thompson, Mayor of the town of Kinston, dated June 25, 1984 it was stated that an individual could perform all duties assigned to him as a policeman of a city while serving under a provisional appointment as a law enforcement officer before completing the necessary training. Thus, such an individual would have the power to make arrests during this time.

"Your second question is to be answered in the negative. The requirement that those who leave law enforcement work for a period of six months or more must complete the 240 hours of police training before being rehired as a law enforcement officer applies only to those persons who were 'grandfathered' into the Peace Officers Standards and Training Act on September 30, 1971. See Code of Alabama 1975, Section 36-21-46(a). Once an individual has completed the police training required by the Peace Officers Standards and Training Act, it is not necessary for him to obtain additional training although he is not employed as a law enforcement officer for six months or longer.

"To answer your third question, an auxiliary police officer has the same right as that of a private citizen to carry a gun. The fact that he is an auxiliary police officer does not give him a greater privilege regarding the carrying of a weapon. All prior opinions regarding the right of an auxiliary police officer to carry a gun are hereby modified to this effect."

STREAK IN DOCUMENT

Brainstorms.....

With Ferrin Cox

This country boy is a fisherman - or to be more accurate, enjoys fishing. My youngest son and I discovered during the past weekend that the beam were going on the bed in this little pond we were fishing. We just paddled around in and out of the wind and ended up with a nice string of bull beam. Each of which would really bend one of those telescoping, Japanese-made beam poles we were using; and the six-pound test line would just sing!

Defense contractors have had a gray train for many, many years, but now many of their antics are creating the problems President Reagan is facing with the voting masses today. He wants to increase defense spending while cutting social programs, but for every speech he makes to gain support, someone reveals another case of defense contractors billing the government the cost of boarding the contractor's dog at the kennels, or pay for workers assigned to some other project. We contend that as long as we pay a firm "cost-plus 10 percent", we will continue to get this type results. When we realize that a contractor gets more profit when he makes the cost go higher (cost plus 10 percent), then we know why they not only pay bills but they have little incentive to control actual cost as they would if operating the way they do when selling to the private sector.

The American Cancer Society is mad about the women who will die of lung cancer this year. They contend that 29,000 women will die from the disease in 1985 because of cigarette smoking. We are slow to criticize advertising, because that is the lifeblood of a newspaper, but we have never been so hungry that we actively advocated something that we knew was harmful to our friends and neighbors. Medical experts contend smoking is harmful, and we urge folks to stop killing themselves with it. Anyone who desires to do so can stop - we did. After smoking a pipe for twenty years we laid it down, apparently for good. We had a couple of slips before finally stopping permanently and still climb the wall after a banquet and someone across the table lights up with a good quality tobacco; but it ain't near as bad as it once was.

The most frightening news we have heard lately isn't really news at all. Recently there has been speculation that Teddy Kennedy would again be seeking the presidency in 1988. As we noted, this ain't really news because it has been generally believed that he and his family wanted one or more of the brothers to follow the late John F. Kennedy into the White House. We voted for John Kennedy in 1960 and would probably do so again if he were alive; but brother Robert didn't strike our fancy, and Teddy is a no-no. We don't believe he has any qualifications except the Kennedy fortune and his brother's name.

Sports Illustrated offended this country boy with their April issue. A detailed story on a baseball pitcher who threw a fast ball at some jury miles an hour faster than anyone in history turned out to be an April Fool joke. We don't subscribe to the magazine and probably don't have the right to complain, but never again will we believe something just because it is in Sports Illustrated. Maybe we were at fault to do so anyway, but then we couldn't go to those training camps and check out every story they wrote. Maybe we need to go back to the advice of believing nothing we hear and only half of what we see (and I don't mean watching on the "tube").

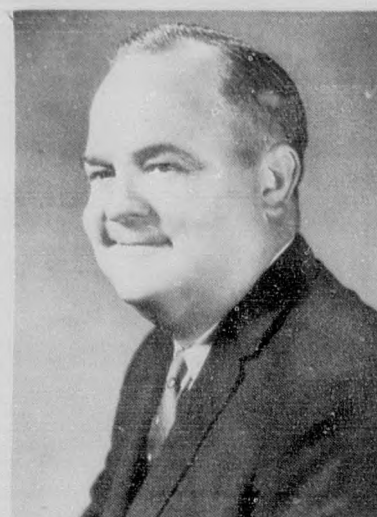

Monday we wrote a piece for this space noting the serious illness of our good friend Kimmie Dorsey, but didn't get the chance to print it because we got up Tuesday morning to the news that T.K. had died during the night. We closed that paragraph with a suggestion that all the friends of Kimmie and Betty join in remembering them in our prayers. . . we can still do that.

Easter time is especially touching to me. Religious groups have developed some beautiful scenes to commemorate the occasion. Locally we can hear a Good Friday presentation of special Lenten music at the United Methodist Church at 7 p.m. Then Sunday morning at 9:30 there will be a community sunrise service at the Westside Baptist Church. I love these services when they can be held outside, and feel a certain closeness as the day dawns around those attending.

The U.S. Navy is still trying to decide just where to base a battleship along the Gulf Coast. Several cities with Gulf ports are vying for the financial plum, including Pensacola, Florida; Mobile, Alabama; Pascagoula, Mississippi; Lake Charles, Louisiana; and both Galveston and Corpus Christi, Texas. It will entail somewhere between fifty and one hundred million dollars of construction to handle the five or six ships along the massive increase in employment will add dollars every month into the economy of the community selected. This leads to a "buyer's market" and the Navy is getting all kinds of promises from local and state governments. We are not looking for a job, but feel we would get some crumbs if it were located in either Pensacola or Mobile.

Alabama Senator Denton told this country boy recently that he was doing everything short of kidnapping the Secretary of the Navy to get Mobile selected as the home base for the ship. Now with Denton being a retired admiral and a hero POW in Vietnam, his position now as a U.S. senator whose home is in Mobile presents an interesting situation and we will watch it closely, especially since he faces re-election in 1986.

Missing You

Everytime I close my eyes,
Thoughts of you fill my head.
I think of you often,
Especially when I'm in bed.

Everytime I try to read,
I can't seem to concentrate.
I wonder what you're doing,
Thinking of you is my fate.

We've known each other one short day,
Yet it seems like a million years.

Our parting was one of laughter,
Our separation filled with tears.

Everytime I think of last night,
I hope that you think of it too.
The rest of my week is already planned,
I plan to be missing you.

The workshop was directed by Bob Gaines, Uniserv District #22 Director. DONKEY BASKETBALL GAME AT Z.C.

BY: RICHIE RUGG

On Saturday, March 23, Zion Chapel held an event proclaimed to be the "Greatest Show on Earth." "Funniest" would be a better word for it. There were four team members for each of two teams and each had his own donkey. Rules were simple -- never leave your donkey, and you must shoot the basketball mounted on your donkey. Easy! Right? Wrong! The riders were forced to shoot backwards, forwards, sideways, and always in a moving and awkward position.

As in all ballgames there was a halftime show. This show was a little different than most though. Three volunteers were recruited into participating. David Seano, Marlin Mobley, and Donnie Marler were the recruits.

These brave men had to escort a donkey to a point on the court to some equipment. The equipment had to be put on and the contestants were to sprint to the far end of the court. Their equipment consisted of a bra and panties, extra large for all three men. When the state cleared, Marlin Mobley came in first, while David Seano got second and Donnie Marler came in third.

SAVE ON TAXES

Be a winner at Coffee County Bank. Trim the excess off your tax bill this year by setting up your Individual Retirement Account at Coffee County Bank.

A married couple who work and file a joint tax return, may each deposit up to $2,000.00 in this account. This means that their taxable income (gross) is reduced by $4,000.00. This will lessen the taxes they will pay and at the same time their money will be earning interest.

When it's time to retire, an IRA account can make things a lot easier. Remember, you pay NO TAXES until you use the money.

Annual Staff Completes Fund Raising

By: Teresa Holcomb

The annual staff finished the sale of Easter gifts that were their recent fund-raising project. Monday, March 25, was the deadline set in order that the gifts be returned in time for Easter.

The top four salesmen in the project were Sarah Campbell, Wendy Nelson, Teresa Holcomb, and Tabetha Rodgers.

The money that was raised will be used for the '85 Rebel yearbook and to help pay for the trip to the Southeastern Yearbook Conference Workshop in Montgomery, Alabama this summer. Mrs. Bryan, the yearbook sponsor, and four students will attend the workshop to learn new techniques and designs that can be used in the '86 Rebel yearbook.

Poll Reveals Students Enjoy Shows With Real Family Issues

By: Rhonda Senn

A common perception today is that students enjoy adventure shows with violent action. But a recent poll at Z.C. has revealed that students who watch T.V. at least two or three hours a night like the Crosby Show the best. Most of the students like this show because it deals with real family issues. Other shows which rated high were Family Ties, Cagney and Lacey, and the Facts of Life.

The most disliked show was discovered to be the Dukes of Hazzard. Following it were the

A-Team, Hill Street Blues and Dynasty.

The most favorite soap opera of most students was Days of Our Lives and the next best was Santa Barbara. The young actor Peter Recknell, who plays Bo Brady, was chosen as the favorite actor.

The poll uncovered that most students watch T.V. alone and have no restrictions on the shows they may watch. Since most students do not have satellites or VCR's, they attend the movies more than they watch T.V. at home.

Spell-A-Thon To Benefit Easter Seal Society

By: Sheila Simmons

The classes in the Zion Chapel Elementary School are having a spell-a-thon. A spell-a-thon is a safe and worthwhile activity for students. It encourages students to concentrate on correct spelling and increases their vocabulary.

The spell-a-thon helps the Alabama Easter Seal Society by letting the students get parents, relatives, friends, etc., to pledge a specific amount for each word spelled correctly. The average pledge is five cents a word. Prizes will be awarded to the persons who have the most money pledged. Every student who raises $15 receives an Easter Seal ruler. Those who raise $25 will receive a ruler and a Spell-A-Thon T-shirt. Fifty dollars will earn a ruler, a T-shirt, and a choice of a Visor or Bike Pack. Those who have pledged $75 or more will get a T-shirt, a ruler, a visor or a bike pack, and a barrel tote bag. Certificates of participation will be given to each student participating in the Spell-A-Thon. Any student who spells 100 words correctly will be awarded a special certificate.

All the proceeds will be given to the Alabama Easter Seal Society to help the handicapped children and adults in our area.

Many Exciting Events

To Come

By: Sarah Campbell

The seniors at Z.C. have nine more weeks of school left but they are prepared to graduate now! Invitations, diplomas, and caps and gowns have arrived and the seniors are getting excited for "the big night on the field" when all graduating seniors receive their diplomas.

This nine weeks includes a lot of exciting events in that the Jr./Sr. Prom is less than a month away. Many senior girls are already preparing from the prom by getting evening gowns and of course, if they haven't been asked, getting an appropriate date for one of the biggest events a senior dreams about. The senior guys are looking around for "just the right guy" and "just the right girl" for the prom. In this day and time guys may be waiting to be asked by a girl. A month after the prom comes the biggest event of GRADUATION! There are many seniors who say that they will miss school, while the majority will be glad when it's all over.

Students Attend State FHA Convention

By: Janet Stewart

Lisa Holcomb, Dana Dean, Cynthia Williams, Tammy Duncan, and Janet Stewart served as delegates to the annual Alabama State FHA Convention. FHA is a national organization of state, county, and local chapters.

The first general session was held March 22-23 at the Montgomery Civic Center. The first general session was held Friday evening with the state president presiding. She presented the 1985-86 candidates for state president, each of whom gave a one-minute speech and answered a question. Entertainment for the evening was provided by Ms. Annie L. Edwards, a singer/actress/comedienne from Birmingham.

After the general session, all delegates divided into their districts. At the district and HERO business meetings, the district candidates were presented and recognized. Gina Hilton, Mrs. Hilton's daughter, was one of the candidates for District 4, Coffee County's district. Winners of the Peanut Contest in each district were also presented at the district meetings. "Nothin' Fancy," a group of young break dancers and dee jays, provided a dance Friday night for the FHA members, sponsors, and guests.

On Saturday morning the voting delegates voted for the state officers. Lisa served as Zion Chapel's voting delegate. Tammy and Janet served as ushers to welcome people to the meeting and to pass out stickers. The general session included a business session and recognition time. Mrs. Hilton was given special recognition for her work.

Mark Scharenbroich from Minneapolis, Minnesota, was the keynote speaker at the convention. His speech was entitled "One of a Kind." He stressed the importance of each individual. After the general session, the delegates attended workshops called "Leaderships." Cynthia attended "Why Drink or Do Drugs?" Tammy sat in on "Too Much Too Soon." Dana went to "Nutrissing: The In-Way to Good Health." Janet attended "Teenagers and the Law," and Lisa attended "Color Your Life with Leadership."

At the closing session the state officers were presented and installed. The newly-elected executive council presented "FHA Touching Lives." The Zion Chapel group stayed in the Governor's House motel. They

Views From

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Editor

The Elba High School baseball team is scheduled to play its home opener today (Thursday) at Legion Field and I am looking forward to seeing the Tigers in action. Coach Rick Rainer returns a veteran team that is loaded with potential and I feel the team has a good shot at snapping Elba's string of 13 consecutive losing seasons. The Tigers will be young, but experienced, and should be fun to watch. C'mon out - the game starts at 4:00, and even if you're late, you'll still see plenty of action!

I went to the Florida football jamboree last week and was very impressed with the play of the New Brockton Gamecocks. I expected New Brockton to be well-coached and ready to play; however, I did expect Florida to at least give 'em a game. That wasn't the case! New Brockton dominated every aspect of the game from start to finish, and the level of play didn't drop off even when Coach Boutwell emptied his bench. I know that a big win in a spring jamboree doesn't count on your record, but it should give the Gamecocks a much needed lift heading into a very important off-season program. The Gamecocks may have lost some feathers last season; however, they appear to be growing back fast.

I went up to Zion Chapel last week to watch the Rebels practice and was surprised to find out how big the Rebels were - both in number and size! Approximately 40 varsity players were taking part and the players were as big as any I've seen in years. The Rebels' line goes over 200 pounds a man and the fullback tips the scales at 240; so tell me that ain't big! I watched practice for an hour and was impressed with the attitude of the players and the excitement shown. The players looked like they enjoyed what they were doing and wanted to get better and better. Hey, Zion Chapel could be tough next season.

The final softball meetings will be held next week and I urge all softball fans and players to get the word around. Elba's got excellent facilities and a low entry fee. So, c'mon out and join the fun!

Softball Teams Needed For Elba Leagues!

The Elba Recreation Department held its organizational meetings for the summer softball leagues Tuesday night, and one thing was obvious - "More Softball Teams Are Needed!"

The final pre-season meeting will be on Tuesday, April 9, at 7 p.m., at the Elba City Hall. The league will be closed after this meeting, so all team representatives must be present.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Only three teams were present at the women's softball league meeting and recreation director Dennis Smith stated the league must have four teams or it will be dropped!

The entry fee, which will include balls and ASA fees, will be $100 per team. If enough teams enter, the league will start the first week in May.

The final pre-season meeting will be on Tuesday, April 9, at 7 p.m., at the Elba City Hall. The league will be closed after this meeting, so all team representatives must be present.

CHURCH LEAGUE

The church softball league held its meeting this week with only four churches represented. The four teams will be enough to form the league; however, six to eight teams are expected to enter.

Recreation director Dennis Smith stated two small churches would combine if necessary, but added the teams would vote at the next meeting whether to allow players to play in both the men's league and church league.

The league is scheduled to start the first week in May and the entry fee will be $150, which includes balls and ASA fees.

The final pre-season meeting will be on Tuesday, April 9, at 6 p.m., at the Elba City Hall, and all teams must be represented!

In Spring Football Jamboree

New Brockton Gamecocks Clobber Florala 26-0

The New Brockton Gamecocks competed in the Florida Football Jamboree last Friday night and were most impressive as they blasted the Florala Wildcats 26-0, in only two quarters of action.

In other action in the Jamboree Georgianna defeated Straughn 7-0 and Goshen blanked Red Level 16-0. New Brockton put the ball in play on the 35-yardline to open the game and promptly drove 65-yards in 9 plays to get on the scoreboard! Derick Smith gained 10-yards on 3 carries and pulled in a Jon Paul Sawyer pass for 20-yards to spark the drive, while Stefan Knox scored the touchdown on a 1-yard plunge. A two-point pass failed, but with 6:53 left in the opening stanza New Brockton was on top to stay at 6-0.

The Gamecocks got the ball back on their 27-yardline to start their next possession and again headed goalward, only to lose a fumble at the Wildcat 4-yardline. The drive was highlighted by the running of Stefan Knox, who gained 28-yards on only two carries.

New Brockton's defense wouldn't let Florala out of the hole and the Gamecock offense came back on the field with good field position at the Florala 32. A 28-yard pass from Jon Paul Sawyer to Keith Patterson got the Gamecocks close and on the next play Stefan Knox bulled over for the touchdown. A two-point attempt again failed, leaving New Brockton with a 12-0 lead with 11:56 left in the second quarter.

Florida mounted its only drive on its next series and crossed midfield, only to be stopped at the Gamecock 36-yardline.

The New Brockton offense was eager to add to its total and needed only 4 plays to cover 64-yards. Kenneth Deetion got the drive off to a quick start with two good runs, while eighth-grader On Burrows brought the crowd to its feet when he took a handoff and raced 50-yards for a touchdown! Deetion added the two-points to up New Brockton's lead to 20-0 with 6:29 left in the stanza.

The Gamecocks' Paul Truitt recovered a Florala fumble on the Wildcat's next possession and New Brockton quickly drove 55-yards in 4 plays to score again! A 12-yard run by Mark Blair and a 32-yard pass from Curtis Smith to Jeff Creel moved the ball to the 11-yardline and on the next play Kenneth Deetion went in standing up for the score. The conversion failed, but New Brockton owned a commanding 26-0 lead with 3:12 still left in the quarter.

New Brockton's Darrell Griswold recovered a Florala fumble with 1:35 left in the quarter and the Gamecocks again headed for paydirt, only to run out of time. Curtis Smith picked up 36-yards on two carries during the final drive, which ended with New Brockton on the Florala 15-yardline.

On Burrows gained 50-yards on 1 carry to lead the Gamecock runners, while Stefan Knox added 40-yards on 6 carries and Derick Smith gained 32-yards on 7 carries.

OBITUARY

Mr. Booker T. Carpenter of Sebring, FL, formerly of Elba, died March 25, 1985 at the Highlands General Hospital, Sebring, Florida.

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 30, 1985 at 11:00 a.m. in the Greater Zion M.B. Church, Elba. Burial was in Sebring, Florida with Reverend J.S. Morice, pastor and Rev. W.J. Johnson officiating.

He was survived by two friends of mine, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Rogers. They have moved their home into a new building. As I entered the shop, I liked the atmosphere. It was warm and I felt comfortable.

Mr. Rogers built the shop and he and Mrs. Rogers did the interior decorating. The results: A place with a cozy, friendly, atmosphere that is reflective of its owners.

The Rogers' talked in a business like manner but they also talked with a touch of pride because their dream had come true.

As I sat there in one of the beautiful maroon bucket chairs I thought, these are two successful black people who appreciate what they have accomplished and know how important it is to maintain this place because they realize they get a lot out of the community and they will make it their business to give a lot back through their service to the people.

I now realize that religion was a significant influence in the character of this family. There were two plaques on the wall that really caught my eye: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy path." The other one was "Trouble is what God uses to mold us for better things." The Rogers had a goal to reach and they had to plan, have determination, perseverance and pray for guidance. They are proud of their barber's license and cosmetology certificates. (Both were students at MacArthur

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Belcher and Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Williams all of Elba traveled to Sebring, FL, for the funeral of Mr. Booker T. Carpenter formerly of Elba. While in the state of Florida they visited relatives in Groveland.

Have a good day.

UNLINED JACKET WORKSHOP

Unlined jackets are in fashion today and can be worn many ways by most everyone. A workshop to construct the jacket will be held Saturday, April 20, at 9:00 a.m. We plan to finish the jacket that day. The workshop will be held in the Community Room of the Farm Center in New Britain.

You will need to pre-register. Call 894-5596 for a registration form. Class is limited to 10 people.

SLIP-LINED SKIRT

This summer look crisp and feel cool and comfortable in a slip-lined skirt. It will not only look smooth and retain its shape better, but, in hot and humid weather, a slip lining often eliminates the need to wear a slip. The key to comfort is fabric choice for the lining. I have just finished a skirt with silk crepe de chine which worked nicely. However, polyester sheath satin works good. I did find that the crepe-back satin lining was a bit heavy.

Select the lining fabric in a color and weight that is compatible with the skirt's design and fabric. You might want to select the new fabric out now which has an anti-static quality. This is a 100% polyester fabric. If you would like instructions on lining a skirt, call me at the above number.

THAWING FOODS

If you thaw food at room temperature, it runs the risk of food spoilage. Thaw food in the refrigerator. There's less chance of food spoilage and less seepage from the food.

SOYBEAN OUTLOOK

Dr. John Henderson, Auburn University soybean specialist, had this to say about the soybean outlook for this year: "We will have about a million less soybean acres this year than we had in 1979. It's a little disturbing to have such a drastic drop in acreage, but not totally unexpected. We had too many acres on marginal soil, too many growers over-expanded, and too many in continuous soybeans. Dropping back to a more manageable level and developing good rotation systems will improve yields and profits. Economists still give us little hope for significant price increases this year, but soybeans are extremely responsive to world conditions and things could change quickly.

There is little hope that prices will rise very high, but at least there is always hope. Growers should realize that, when there is a jump, prices will probably not stay up long so they need to watch the market closely.

Henderson concluded, "The opportunity for profits in 1985 appears to be in the area of increased yields rather than increased profits. This means growers must put soybeans on productive soil, rotate with some other crop, and use a complete program of all production practices."

Be sure to keep your spray schedule up to date on peaches and hogs. Even though the weather was cold, we will still have the normal amount of insects and diseases on these fruit trees.

Len Averett of Route 2, Enterprise, is trying to do something about the marketing of his beef and hogs. He concentrates on growing meat-type hogs which he has in a total confinement operation. Averett buys 400-pound beef calves, grazes them for several months, and then grain feeds them for 120 days before sending them to market.

Dan Presley and I were talking about his plans for marketing beef and hogs, and we hope that he is successful. Averett will have an opportunity to try to increase his profits by offering the pork and beef to individual consumers.

GREENHOUSE POTATOES

Cal Turner, who lives in the Jack Community, is the most successful greenhouse tomato producer that I have ever seen. Generally, people who go into the greenhouse tomato business last only a year or so, but Turner has survived for six years. In fact, he has recently added a new house.

Turner and his wife are producing several hundred pounds of high-quality tomatoes each week. He told me that he has some per-

Federal Grand Jury Returns Local Indictments

Cecil Patterson Faces 20 Year Sentence In Connection With 1984 Kinston Marijuana Bust

William Cecil Patterson, a former agriculture teacher at Kinston High School, has been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on a variety of drug charges.

The four-count indictment, released Monday, charges that Patterson, age 44, of Rt. 2, Kinston, conspired to manufacture and possess with intent to distribute approximately 470 marijuana plants.

The plants had an estimated value of $750,000.

The marijuana plants were seized by the Coffee County Sheriff's Dept., on September 28, 1984, from a field located behind Patterson's home. The plants averaged 15-20 feet in height, while a number of planted exceeded 30 feet in height and were taller than trees in the area. The plants were chopped down with axes due to the thickness of the stalk.

If convicted, Patterson could be sentenced to a maximum of 20 years in prison and fined up to $60,000.

Arraignment will be on Wednesday, April 17 at United States District Court, in Montgomery, with a tentative trial date set for June 10, in Dothan.

Dean Kyle Charged With Six Counts Involving Smuggling Cocaine Into States From Bahamas

A former Elba resident was indicted last week by a Federal Grand Jury on charges stemming from the alleged smuggling of 4.2 pounds of cocaine.

Indicted was Carol Dean Kyle, age 44, the former owner of an Elba flying service, on two counts of conspiracy to possess cocaine, two counts of conspiracy to import cocaine and two counts of possession of cocaine.

Kyle, now living in Dothan, could face a maximum of 60 years in prison and a fine of $150,000 if convicted.

The indictment alleges that Kyle brought in two shipments of cocaine from the Bahamas. It contends that 2.2 pounds were brought in between May, 1983 and Sept. 1983, and a second shipment of 2 pounds of cocaine between November 1983 and January 1984.

United States Attorney John Bell stated the indictment was related to a two-year federal sting operation that has already resulted in 11 convictions on federal drug charges. Arraignment is set for Wednesday, April 17 at United States District Court, in Montgomery, with a tentative trial date set for June 10, in Montgomery.

Commission Continues To Seek Aid To Repair Road Damage

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, April 8, at the courthouse in Enterprise and finalized plans to apply for $300,000 in state funds to be used to repair road damage in the county caused by heavy rains.

Bob Watts, of the Regional Planning Office, explained the terms of the grant, which will require the county to provide engineering work as well as $33,000 in funds. The funds will be sufficient to cover work at nine sites in the county, but will fall far short of the $1.6 million needed to do all the repairs across the county.

The commission passed a resolution seeking the funds and also authorized Probate Judge Marion Brunson to work with the planning commission on the project.

Representatives of the Soil and Water Conservation Service were at the meeting and gave an update on the progress of projects in Coffee County.

The Victoria Gulley Project was reported to be nearing completion, as workers finish planting vegetation on the banks. A formal inspection will take place on Thursday, April 18, at 10:00 a.m.

Work on the Harold Godwin Road was said to be nearing a starting date, with all paperwork due to be finished prior to October 1. The county must pave a portion of the road to meet requirements and pledged to do so, as planned.

A lettered from the State Highway Dept. asked all counties to assist in informing residents of restrictions on the placement of mailboxes.

In the letter, the state reported that all permanent type mailboxes (brick columns, etc.) should be relocated to at least 10 feet beyond the edge of pavement. These structures were said to be a great liability to the county, state or federal agency that maintains the road, as well as the owner of the mailbox. The letter further stated that if the structures are found to be on the right-of-way on federally funded projects, the project would not be accepted.

Existing mailboxes within the right-of-way should be mounted on supports that will yield or collapse upon impact.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

presented a resolution to Enterprise State Junior College president, Dr. Dean Talmadge in honor of Two-Year College week;

was told of three Soil and Water Conservation District projects in the county now underway;

was told of various repairs being made to heavy machinery;

was told all electric fences located within 10 feet of payment must be moved;

discussed possible legal action against the power company for problems caused when utility crews leave cut limbs in gulches;

stated a $1,000 grant would be presented to officials at the Rhodes Community Center on April 13;

discussed plans to install a dome and clock atop the Enterprise courthouse with possible help from state trade schools;

was told the county jail has passed Health Dept., Fire Marshall and Corrections Board inspections;

took a strong stand on the continued illegal dumping of garbage and instructed Judge Brunson to have the county attorney, county health department and state health department officials present at the next meeting;

and, agreed to charge non-profit civic organizations only the cost of utilities and a deposit to use the Farm Center arena.

Coffee County Probate Judge Marion Brunson presents a resolution to Enterprise State Junior College president Dr. Joseph Talmadge. The resolution was presented in honor of two-year college week in the state.

Elba Women Arrested In Covington County

Three Elba women were arrested last week on theft of property charges following shifting investigations in Andalusia and Opp.

Andalusia Police Department investigator Gary Hutcheson stated that Brenda Daniels, 20; Glennie Daniels, 22; and Velvet Coleman, 22, were arrested Tuesday, April 2, at 3:16 p.m. on second and third degree theft of property charges.

The women were arrested after Andalusia police were alerted that someone had stolen three stereo tapes from the TG&Y store.

The women reportedly were taken to the Andalusia Police Department for questioning and during the questioning investigators searched the 1982 Lysix in which the suspects had been riding. Police found merchandise valued at $300 believed stolen from Howard's, TG&Y and Smart and Thrifty in Andalusia, and the TG&Y in Opp.

Opp police charged Brenda Daniels and Glennie Daniels with theft of property second degree, while Velvet Coleman was charged with theft of property third degree. Andalusia police charged Coleman with theft of property third degree, Brenda Daniels with theft of property third degree, and Glennie Daniels with criminal conspiracy and theft of property second degree. Merchandise recovered included clothing, jewelry, make-up and stereo equipment.

All three women were released on bond.

Elba Mayor Reports On Railroad Meeting

English reported attending a meeting with the railroad in Jacksonville, Florida, last week and service forever.

Kleinert's Inc. Joins Fight Against Imports

Kleinert's Inc. officials announced last week that they will join Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., in the fight against the increasing threat of imports and announced the slogan "Crafted with Pride by Kleinert's in the USA" to show the company's dedication to supplying all buyers with quality goods at competitive prices.

In an article that appeared in the April, 1985, edition of the "Spotlight," Kleinert's monthly newspaper, officials stated they were "very much aware" that imports, principally from the Far East countries with their cheap cost of labor and benefits, were taking more and more jobs out of the United States. The imports, which grew a reported $70 billion in one year, has resulted in many plant closings in Alabama and surrounding southern states, according to the article.

Kleinert's officials stated they were glad Wal-Mart was challenging American manufacturers to meet the challenge and pledged Kleinert's would take courses of action to improve its competitive position.

FAMILY DOLLAR HOLDS GRAND RE-OPENING... Officials from Family Dollar store, city of Elba and the Elba Exchange Bank were on hand recently at the grand re-opening of the Family Dollar Store located in the Elba shopping center. The store had been closed for several weeks due to smoke damage resulting from the fire at the neighboring Big Bear supermarket.

Rescue Squad Adopts Policy For Transfers

The Elba Rescue Squad voted Tuesday evening at a squad meeting to adopt guidelines that would prevent transfer of any patient from a hospital on the local rescue squad ambulance without a signed certificate of emergency condition.

Rescue squad members were told that Alabama's Good Samaritan Act protects squad members from lawsuits in an emergency situation, but doesn't offer the same protection in non-emergency situations. The group emphasized they would continue offering the service to county residents needing transportation to the nearest doctor or hospital, but the above changes will be made on transfers from hospital to hospital.

Squad captain Charles Farris said doctors have three options: (1) They can sign the certificate, (2) buy an ambulance, or (3) call a professional ambulance from the city to which they are transporting the patient. He explained the squad was being used as a taxi service; all the members were volunteers who have to leave their jobs or families to make the runs and couldn't continue being gone all the time. To be legal hauling non-emergency patients, Farris said a service needs to be staffed with paramedics, which would be good, but wasn't practical.

DYKES RUSHING of the Alabama Highway Department uses a pointer to point out items of interest on one of three bridge projects scheduled for the Elba area within the next twelve months.
